Dear Mr. Arevalo and Mrs. Cofer,

I am accustomed to working with multiple teams to produce desired outcomes and meeting the specifications of the customers. I desire to increase my knowledge base by developing the skills I have been learning by gaining the internship to prove myself a valuable asset. I will make it clear that I am a fast learner, capable of great work. It looks like the Mirror team specifically deals with the skills I desire to build upon. I have already begun adapting to the many social media influences, websites, and Adobe Suite. The mission of Eagle Rock is the sharing of knowledge and building of success; this aligns directly with what I desire and expect from working with Eagle Rock.

I have been a part of different teams for the past several years and have usually ended up leading those teams. At McClarin Plastics, I wound up replacing the crew leader in 2 months by developing more efficient production processes. At Progexion, I helped to plan team activities, community outreach, and implemented ways to improve company statistics. My knowledge and skill set are both diverse. As the job posting described, I am desiring to learn all I can from your professionals. My outgoing positivity will speak for itself as you get to know me. It stands out even under pressure. Hard work reflects my integrity and how much I put into everything I do. My main strength and part of the reason I went into public relations would be my writing; it is a passion of mine. I am effective at communicating and asking analytical questions to be thorough. As a manager in training, I demonstrated organizational skills by taking notes on everyone that needed my coaching and what they needed help with.

Thank you for your time and consideration. Reviewing my cover letter and resume is the first step in seeing the great fit that I would be. I am excited by the possibility of getting the internship to develop real world experience in the public relations field. Please feel encouraged to contact me by any method listed at the top of the page.

Appreciate what you do to help people like me get our foot in the door.

Thank you very much,

Bryce Shearer
